The Third Manhattan Building Association.—BOOKS OF SUBSCRIPTION NOW OPEN.

JOIN AT ONCE—The usparalleled success attending the First and Second Manhattan Building Associations, the latter having disposed of its entire number of theirs in the short space of five months from the period of its organization, has led to the effablishment of the Third, to which the attention of the public is invited.

The Entrance Fee is $2; Monthly Dues, $3; Shares,

The Entrance Fee St; Monthly Dues, $3; Shares, $500.

It costs now but Two Dellars to become a member, and the monthly installment of Three Dollars, in the course of a few years—probably six or seven—will positively yield the sum of Eight Hundred Dollars.

A moment's consideration will convince any one of the superiority of these Associations over Savings Banks, and all persons of small means are invited to avail themselves of the advantages here offered.

To those who wish to escape the tyranny of landlords, by becoming the owner of a house and lot, if they are without capital to accomplish it they can obtain sufficient from this Association for that purpose, and by appropriating no more than the house now yields for rent, can pay for it in a very few years. Members paying not less than as months in advance will be entitled to interest thereon at the rate of per cent per annum.

Persons desirous of becoming members of the Third Manhaitan Building Association can do so by culting at the office of the Secretary. No. 15 Spruce-st, second floor, where by laws can be had free of charge.
